FARMERS Raisers of Country Produce

Your attention is called to the desirable mutual advantage made by the District Commissioners, who have just given the formal authority that you can sell your own grown produce on the sidewalk immediately in front of the Northeast Market, located at 12th and H sts. N.E. A number of general improvements have recently been made at this market, among which are the removal of the wood benches and the installation of white tile stands. The District reports of the market inspectors are that there is no better or finer kept or more attractive market in the city. H street, on account of the many recent improvements, has become a great business street and a great thoroughfare, and it is a fact that this street is fully as packed with pedestrians and purchasers as 7th street N.W.

The sidewalk spaces have been officially marked off, and your attention is called to this unusual opportunity; there are no reservations—those who come first have the choice of the more preferable locations for permanent occupancy.

There will be special features incident to the inauguration of the farmers at this popular market, which takes place next Saturday, May 9. Call and inspect for reservations, or write the Marketmaster, or phone downtown office, Main 6629.

HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

National Officers to Attend Session to Be Called at Raleigh Hotel Thursday.

When the annual meeting of the Seedlework Guild of America is called n the Raleigh Thursday morning by Miss Mabel T. Boardman all the national officers are expected to be present. They include Mrs. Truman H. Newberry, president; Mrs. William Spencer of Erie, Pa.; and Mrs. Isaac Gimbel of New York. vice presidents; Mrs. Oliver S. Keely of Philadelphia, recording secretary; Miss Rosamond K. Bender of Philadelphia, Rosamond K. Bender of Philadelphia, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. D. Edwin Irving of Philadelphia, treasurer, as well as branch presidents from many of the 371 branches scattered throughaut the United States.

In the absence of the local branch president, Mrs. Henry Arnold Peckham, in Europe, Mrs. Newberry will be introduced by Miss Boardman, who is a vice president of the District of Columbia branch of the guild, and who is enthusiastic in her praise of the work of the guild, not only as applied to its regular activities, but in co-operation with the Red Cross in times of national or local emergency. At the time of the floods in Ohio last spring the guild branches sent many thousands of new, serviceable garments to the Red Cross agents for distribution. At the meeting called by the executive committee of the Red Cross at the Willard last Sunday the officers and many members of the District of Columbia branch of the Needlework Guild were enrolled as members of the "supply were enrolled as members of the "supply supply the supply suppl
